CONTENTS OF VOLUME IX

No. 1.

H. HORTLING and L. HIISI-BRUMMER: The nembutal metabolic rate as an aid in the study of thyroid function 1
N. HARBOE: A simple two-chamber electrodialyzer 8
B. MOLLSTEDT: A comparison between two diffusion methods for determination of bacterial sensitivity to antibiotic agents 15
C. GYLLENSVÄRD and B. JOSEPHSON: The development of the serum electrolyte concentration in normal infants and children 21
B. JOSEPHSON and C. GYLLENSVÄRD: The development of the protein fractions and of cholesterol concentrations in the serum of normal infants and children 29
O. E. SKAUG and R. A. NATVIG: Inorganic phosphate in human erythrocytes 39
R. A. NATVIG and O. E. SKAUG: Phosphate uptake and glycolysis in human erythrocytes heated in vitro 44
R. GRÄSBECK: The vitamin B_{12}-binding principle of human gastric juice: Influence of pH on the bacterial adsorption of free and bound B_{12} 50
P. J. CHRISTENSEN, J. W. DATE, F. SCHØNHEYDER and K. VOLQVARTZ: Amino acids in blood plasma and urine during pregnancy 54
E. HVIDBERG and K. BONDRUP NIELSEN: On urinary excretion of mercury following oral administration of »Oradon« and other diuretics 62
L. A. CARLSON and L. FRIBERG: The distribution of cadmium in blood after repeated exposure 67
L.-G. ALLGÉN: Separation and identification of barbiturates in biological material by paper chromatography 71
J. R. MYHRE and E. K. BRODWALL: Kidney function studies in myelomatosis 80
H. E. REFSUM: Influence of hemolysis and temperature on the spectrophotometric determination of hemoglobin oxygen saturation in hemolyzed whole blood 85
B. LARSEN and K. BENT-HANSEN: Changes in serum sulfhydryl and serum glycoprotein in rheumatoid arthritis during treatment with adrenocortical steroids 89

Technique and practical problems:

T. ARONSSON: A simple apparatus for ultrafiltration 95
L. ERIKSEN: Large scale separation of porphyrin pigments on cellulose powder columns 97
Å. HOLMGÅRD: A note on the determination of serum cholesterol by the Liebermann-Burchard reaction 99
H. ERIKSON and J. RAUSAND: A heat tolerant, low resistance breathing valve 101

Letters to the editors:

H. REICHARD: A new specific liver test. Determination of ornithine carbamyl transferase 103
E. A. NIKKILÄ and W. KERPPOLA: Acetylation in diabetes mellitus 105
F. SCHØNHEYDER and P. J. CHRISTENSEN: The mechanism of creatinuria during immobilization in bed 107

No. 2.

E. A. NIKKILÄ and T. NIEMI: Serum lipids and lipoproteins in old age 109
H. N. HAUGEN: A study of sweat electrolyte excretion in a patient suffering from congestive heart failure 116
K. JØRGENSEN and P. ASTRUP: Standard bicarbonate, its clinical significance, and a new method for its determination 122
E. PRÆTORIUS, H. POULSEN and H. DUPONT: Uric acid, xanthine and hypoxanthine in the cerebrospinal fluid 133
E. ANDREASEN: On the determination of magnesium in serum and urine by the titan yellow method 138
W. J. KAIPAINEN and K. SEPPÄLÄ: Positive Wasserman and Kahn tests in endocarditis lenta 144
O. STORSTEIN, T. ELGVIN, I. HELLE and J. SEBELIEN: The effect of phentolamine (regitine) on the pulmonary circulation 150
A. JUHL THERKELSEN: Effect of serum on spectral absorbtion of bromsulphthalein after intravenous injection of heparin 156
P. SALENIUS: A study of the pH and buffer capacity of blood, plasma and red blood cells 160
M. NYMAN: Haptoglobin in pernicious anemia 168
K. BACKE-HANSEN: Rectal absorbtion of benzylpenicillin 170
G. ROOTH and S. SJÖSTEDT: Hypoxia for prevention of physiologic anemia in the neonatal period 174

P. O. ALMQUIST and E. LAUSING: A study of serum glycoproteins in cancer 179
H. E. REFSUM: Spectrophotometric determination of hemoglobin oxygen saturation in hemolyzed whole blood by means of various wavelength combinations 190
K. OVERGAARD-HANSEN and AA. THEIL NIELSEN: Does human blood contain uric acid riboside? 194

Technique and practical problems:

S. CHR. SOMMERFELT and E. WYNSTROT: Detection and rough estimation of homogentisic acid in urine 196
R. DYBKÆR: A suction device for pipettes 201
R. DYBKÆR: A simple type of burette with automatic zero adjustment 203
H. O. BANG: Quantitative determination of fibrinogen in plasma. Gram's method modified 205
T. K. WITH: A portable source of Woods light in porphyrin analysis 208

Letters to the editors:

T. J. TURNER and L. EALES: Quantitative determination of cholesterol in serum with p-toluene sulphonic acid 210
B. HAEGER: Increased content of a δ-aminolaevulic acid-like substance in urine from workers in lead industry 211

No. 3.

E. ØRNSHOLT MATHIESEN and C. TROLLE-LASSEN: Renal elimination of penicillin by the aged 213
P. HEDLUND: A comparison between the Löfström capsular swelling reaction and the CRPA-method (C-reactive protein antiserum) for determination of acute phase protein in human serum 218
C. NYSTRÖM and B. SÖRBO: The thiocyanate content in urine and blood from cases of toxemia in pregnancy 223
B. BORGSTRÖM: Determination of pancreatic lipase in human small intestinal content 226
G. LUNDH: Determination of trypsin and chymotrypsin in human intestinal content 229
T. ASTRUP and O. K. ALBRECHTSEN: Estimation of the plasminogen activator and the trypsin inhibitor in animal and human tissues 233

B. ZACHAU-CHRISTIANSEN: The variations in serum uric acid during 24 hours and from day to day 244
B. JONSSON: Influence of pressure loss of velocity on pulmonary arterial pressure recorded through a heart catheter 249
A. LIND: Estimation of sensitivity of tubercle baccilli to cycloserine 255
Å. GYLLENSVÄRD and M. MICHAËLSSON: Portal venous pressure in children 258
P. L. ADNER and S. SJÖLIN: Unexpected blood group incompatibility, revealed by ^{51}Cr-labeled red cells 265
H. CASTENFORS and A. M. ALLGOTH: The effect of iodochlorohydroxyquinoline, di-iodohydroxyquinoline and di-chlorohydroxyquinaldine on the thyroid uptake of radio-iodine 270
H. STORMORKEN: The preparation of proaccelerin deficient (parahemophilia) plasma for the assay of proaccelerin 273
C. G. BERGSTRAND and B. CZAR: Paper electrophoretic study of human fetal serum protein with demonstration of a new protein fraction 277
K. JØRGENSEN: Titrimetric determination of the net excretion of acid/base in urine 287

Reviews:

C. V. MOORE: The importance of nutritional factors in the pathogenesis of iron deficiency anemia 292

Technique and practical problems:

E. WESTENGAARD: A new time-saving apparatus for cutting paper strips for elution in paper electrophoresis 305
H. LINDERHOLM and B. SÖDERSTRÖM: Device for automatic analysis of carbon monoxide in gas samples for determination of blood volume according to Sjöstrand's method 307

Letters to the editors:

E. HALMINEN and E. A. NIKKILÄ: Tube analysis, uropepsin excretion and asure A methods in estimation of gastric secretion 309
H. REICHARD: Determination of ornithine carbamyl transferase with microdiffusion technique 311
G. BRANTE and T. ERNBERG: The in vitro uptake of vitamin B_{12} by diphyllobothrium latum and its blockage by intrinsic factor 313
J. EK and E. HULTMAN: A new method for determining aldosaccharides 315

No. 4.

M. HARBOE: The influence of methemoglobin and storage upon the spectrophotometric determination of carbon monoxide 317
B. A. WAALER: Simultaneous contribution to the formation of thrombin by the intrinsic and extrinsic blood clotting systems 322
P. MØLLER, O. BUUS and E. BIERRING: Blood pressure and urinary excretion of nor-adrenaline (NA) 331
T. ARONSSON and A. GRÖNWALL: Improved separation of serum proteins in paper electrophoresis — a new electrophoresis buffer 338
T. HEIKEL, A. M. SIPILÄ and R. TENHUNEN: Studies on the directly reacting bilirubin 342
J. LÄHDEVIRTA, A. RAINA and T. HEIKEL: Quantitative determination of putrescine, cadaverine, spermine and spermidine 345
K. CLOSS: Polythionate — a new reagent for the detection and determination of protein in urine 349
A. DYFVERMAN and L. BROMAN: Paper chromatography of phosphoric esters from erythrocytes of mental patients during insulin coma treatment 356

B. THOMASSON: Cardiac output in normal subjects under standard basal conditions — the repeatability of measurements by the Fick method 365
L. KORSGAARD CHRISTENSEN: A method for the determination of uropepsin 377
L. KORSGAARD CHRISTENSEN: Titrimetric assay of proteolytic activity 380
W. NYBERG and R. GRÄSBECK: Is vitamin B_{12} in bound or free form in the tapeworm diphyllobothrium latum 383
P. MÄKINEN and E. KULONEN: Synovial fluid potassium 388
W. J. KAIPAINEN and G. TÖTTERMAN: The effect of intrinsic factor in pernicious tape-worm anemia 391
T. K. WITH: Paper chromatography of free porphyrins with neutral salt solutions 395

Technique and practical problems:

T. K. WITH: Pure unequivocal uroporphyrin III — simplified method of preparation from turaco feathers 398
L. PAULSEN: Comparison between total-CO_2 content ("Total CO_2") in plasma/serum from blood collected with or without paraffine oil 402

Letters to the editors:

A. M. ABRAHAMSEN: Alkaline pyridin reaction in serum in trichlorethylene poisoning 406
R. E. STERLING and A. G. REDEKER: Separation and quantitation of porphyrins employing an EDTA buffer system 407
E. KULONEN, F.-E. KRUSIUS and V. LEPPÄNEN: Reliability of Barkers method for PBI in serum 409
